Women's captains predict domestic summer

South East Stars have the best shot at upsetting Southern Vipers' dominance over the women's domestic season according to the captains of the eight teams.

The ECB has released its annual survey of the women's regional captains who have predicted what they expect to happen ahead of the opening round of the Rachael Heyhoe Flint Trophy on Saturday.

Georgia Adams' Southern Vipers won both white-ball trophies last year, and have won five of the seven trophies available over the past four seasons. Four of the women's domestic regional skippers expect the Vipers to add to that tally by winning the 50-over competition again this summer.

Only one captain, however, has backed them to lift the Charlotte Edwards Trophy, as the South East Stars, led by Bryony Smith, were predicted by four skippers to win the 20-over format.

Thunder, chasing their first title in the final year of the women's regional structure, earned two captains' votes to win the Charlotte Edwards Cup while across the Pennines the Northern Diamonds have been tipped as the most likely to challenge the Vipers in Rachel Heyhoe Flint Trophy.

The Thunder's teenage wicketkeeper-batter, Seren Smale, earned the most votes as the most exciting young England-qualified player.

Smale toured New Zealand with England A in the winter and was picked up in last month's The Hundred Women's Draft by Birmingham Phoenix.

The depth of young talent across England and Wales was evident in the fact 11 young guns earned votes from the captains, with Grace Scrivens (Sunrisers), Mahika Gaur (Thunder) and Ryana Macdonald-Gay (SE Stars) all also earning multiple selections.

Macdonald-Gay was also tipped to be one of the leading wicket-takers in the Charlotte Edwards Cup, with Vipers spinner Linsey Smith the best backed with four votes.

Northern Diamonds skipper Hollie Armitage received the most votes to be the leading run-scorer in the Rachael Heyhoe-Flint Trophy ahead of her team's derby opener against Thunder at the Seat Unique Riverside tomorrow.
